Medical.

DR. WEAVER'S CANKER and SALT
RHEUM SYRUP, CANKER CURE and CERATE, warranted a perfect cure for Canker, Sat Rheum, Eryspeins, Ser-fule us Humors, Liver Complaint, and all diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood. These Mediemes are the scientific preparations of a recularly educated physician. The SYRIP is an article which stands unrivaled and unequaled in this or any other country, as a great RUMOR MEDICINE. It is entirely different from any preparation of Sarsapardla, Dock, or any other compound over made, and for Humoris is far better than any or all of them. For the above-mained diseases it is a positive specifice a never finding and infallible cure.

They have now been tested in more than 300,000 cases, embracing persons of high sexes, all ages, and in every station in life, and for all the obove-named diseases and as yet, to our knowledge, there has not been the first instance where they have not done the work justs at was stated they would do it.

Their fine is sounding in every cits, village, town and hambet in this wide-sylvend country, ask those who have used the Syrup, and they will tell you without an exception,
"there never was its equal for curing these diseases, especially humors."

Bio acts upon the system through the circulation, that throws all impurities of humoris that are there out upon Brakin, which is the only channel chrough which the sysme can ever be free foun them. When they are vot on the skin, then they are to be met by the Ceratio, which will cure them as fast as they appears, and this is the only way that humors can be permanently and perfectly cured. The Syrup does not, like many other medicines, destroy the humor for a time only, but it renovates and entirely changes the bleed, and effects life-lasting cares. Thousands die verify with humors, which modes do going to the skin, as they should do, are thrown to some in ernal organ, often to

Of all Scrothous Humers the same can be said of the same. The Syrup, for them, has no equal in Sarsap arillas a signifing else. Any person using it will find its action on him positively certain.

Female Westnesses and Irrogularities.—There is no one cure which produces a greater amount of suffering than the irregular action of the female functions. Hundreds of balles who have been producted and rendered miserable for years by discussed action of these organs, have, by the sea of a few battles of the Syrup been perfectly restored to health. It regulates the circulation in these organs, arouses the network consensus health strength and variet, and enables nature to assente her material be roots. If may truly be called the great regulator; its action to constant and never failing. Pursons who have used it for these discusses, say that they have never found its equal.

Nutsign Syru Morth.—This truly distressing discuss need be longer to the deed of morain mothers, for there is now a tetrable remedy. The Syrup, together with the Canker Cure, will accome most effectually in perfections in a single instance. It is what he is an even most effectually in the permanently cure this decade.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

THE MISSIONARY CAUSE. MEETING OF THE AMERICAN BOARD. Correspondence of The N. Y. Tribune.
PORTLAND, Me., Thursday, Sept. 11, 1851.

The session of this morning was consumed in an attempt to procure donations from the rich men present, sufficient to cancel the indebtedness of the Board, which amounts to upward of

would be greatly simplified.

The intimation that such a course would be pursued was made by Dr. Andreson, the Chief Secretary, who said it was no project of his, for he was opposed to spasmodic efforts of this kind. But he was not the man to say may to any generous proposal to aid their needy treasury, and so he would bid the laity God speed in their attempt to liquidate the debt, the evil of which he was as prompt to acknowledge and deplore as anybody. He closed by urging brevity and dispatch, and said that time was so precious that they should expect $500 from every man who spoke 15 minutes.

Chancelior Wallwerin, of New-York, then read the report of the Committee to whom the special paper of the Treasurer was referred, which besides elaborately explaining the quo modo of exchanges, and how it was possible to lose $10,000 in exchange on $150,000, went into an argument on the evil of a cebt, and ended by hoping that something would be done to remove it.

Gen. Williams then arose, a pleasant, neatly dressed and complaisant man, and began by echoing the sentiment of the Report that a debt was very inconvenient. It was no sign of health, it operated as a damper upon the liberality of the churches, it weakened hope, the mainspring of enterprise, and worked evil in various other ways. Now this debt has been honestly incurred, and ought to be paid. It is the result of no mismanagement for no mercantile establishment in this country is more prudently conducted than this Missionary Society. It grew out of the necessary expansion of the Society, and ought to be accepted as an evidence of the Divine smile. If the debt were suffered to remain it would be $60,000 next year. The General went on eulogizing Sirstational canning, and his country is more prudently conducted than this Missionary Society. It grew out of the necessary expansion of the Society, and ought to be accepted as an evidence of the Divine smile. If the debt were suffered to remain it would be $60,000 next year. The General went on eulogizing Sirstational whole sum could be raised.

Mr Byington, the Choctaw Missionary, told the sodience how they managed these mathers among them. The choctaws are not given to much talk, and are averse to spasmodic action. They make up their minds, and do what they purpose without noise or flourish. They come had a meeting to provide means for commen school education. It was just after they had received their Government annuity. They ascertained what it would cost to do what was wanted, and at a single blow, voted to give $31,000 annually for 20 years, in far less time than has already been consumed in attempting to remove this decit.

Br Werchele and Mr Hill made short specifies and then the house was hushed in expectancy, on Mr. Pigury rising. He made a few remarks that did not look much like the $10,000, and ended by saving that the better way would be for all to piecke themselves to increase their usual donations 12) per cent. This would give the Board $25,000 for their proposed enlargement in Turkey, and $10,000 for their proposed enlargement in Turkey and $10,000 for thei Honge dropped into despondency at once.

Honge Holden, Esq., of New-York, stepped in with a spritted speech, the essence of which was a new of $150, and a promise to increase his donation in present. Dr. Nathan Dunsen, of Fail River, next arose, and said the best investment he ever made was the $500 he gave to the Board to help it out of deet in 1848. He was so well pleased with that, he would

ISS. He was so well pleased with that, he would now give $1,000.

Chief Justice Williams, making some modest and deprecatory remarks respecting the smallness of the gift, and the little self-demail it involved, added another $1,000. The feeling began to rise again.

Mr. Thank offered $250, and if that was not enough, he would be good for $250 more.

Mr. Hill read a note from a lady offering $50.

Dr. Allies said a man by his side, too modest to speak for himself, authorized him to offer $100. The bidding begins to be brisk.

Prof. Warner, of Amherst College, very hand-words of thunder. It ought to be understood that laymen shall have the privilege of giving all they teel disposed to. The heart reasons better than the judgment. But after all the work of getting the mo-ney rests on the pasters. They have access to the million.

Deacon Grant, of Troy, here interposed with a gift of $250.
Dr. Anderson also had a modest friend who would

Dr. Anderson also had a modest friend who would give $500.

Mr. Hill read a little note "Good for $1,000"—the signature of which he did not read, though it is to be hoped there was one.

Dr. Patton, of N. Y., put an extinguisher on this scene by a speech of some point. He had got tired of this talking about debt. For fourteen years we have heard nothing else. It is the most depressing influence that could be put forth. Charity is too delicate a thing to be screamed at and bid upon—this auctioneering was bad policy and bad taste, and he hoped it would be stopped by the laymen, who tains they are better financiers than the clergy—though he denied it entirely, and could prove they were not. The clergy can live better, educate their children better, and entertain more company on a small salary, than the rich laymen desire to get together and pay off this debt, why let them do it, and not make such a fuss about it. This was no place nor method to raise money.

Mr. Sheldon, of Conn., concurred in this, and the hidding came to an end, except in one more instance. Dr. Edd. Oct.

The meeting here closed—the sum of $8,750 hav-sum of $44,000.

The meeting here closed—the sum of $8,750 having been piedged, besides Dr. Eddy's friend's contingent $5,500. On the whole it was hardly reckoned a triumph, and it was proposed that the laymen hold a meeting to consider the matter further, during the

The three orthodox churches—a fourth is about completed—were all filled, the body of the houses being appropriated to communicants, and the galieries filled with spectators. The speakers at the first church were Drs. Todd and dickok. Dr. Dewitt and Mr. Byington offering prayers. At the second, Dr. Beecher and Mr. Brace—Drs. Aiken and Scott offering prayers. At the third, addresses were made by Drs. Skinner and Cox.

The business of the Board was resumed at about 41 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, when, after two or three reports, the election of officers and new members took place. Previously to this, however, it was voted that the next place of meeting should be communate, and Dr. Bacos, of New-Haven, be the preacher. The following new Corporate members were elected. Geo. F. Thursday evening two meetings were held, besides an overflowing mass meeting on Temperance, at Dr. Nichols's (Unitarian) Church, at which Dr. Edwards, Dr. Cox, Dr. Patton, Prof. Stone and others made enthusiastic speeches, eulozizing the heroism of the Maine people in their action on Temperance. The business meeting at the First Church was begun by Hon. Mr. Walley (who looked quite composed, not withstanding his small vote in the Convention) reporting the result of the Laymen's meeting for liquidating the debt. He said that it was ascertained that $11,000 had been subscribed unconditionally, $7,500 more on condition of the whole sup head county. $11,000 had been subscribed unconditionally, $7,500 more on condition of the whole sum being raised. There must have been some private subscriptions after the bidding of the morning. 1 Mr. W. was decidedly of the opinion that the whole sum ought and could be raised at this meeting, and moved that the Treasurer take what measures he thought best to bring the matter fairly before every member present.

orning the matter larry before every measure present.

Dr. Beman read a long and able report on the Amerrican Mission, which concluded with a resolution authorizing the Prudential Committee to send out the proposed reenforcement and to incur the necessary expense. The report and resolution were unanimously adopted.

Dr. Wisser followed with some pointed remarks against getting into debt, which were thought to bear hard upon the report, and promised to excite some commotion. But he explained it as meant only to reply to Dr. Patton's speech in the morning.

commotion. But he explained it as meant only to reply to Dr. Patton's speech in the morning.

Rev. Mr. Kirk read a report on the paper respecting the progressive nature of Missions, which concluded with a series of resolutions to the effect that growth involves expense, and debt was a blessing—that it should be a matter of congratulation that the Board had located its missions where they grew so rapidly.

Rev. Dr. Cooke, editor of The Puritan Recorder, made an elaborate report on the paper on the Missionary Responsibility of Pastors, the reading of which produced a profound impression.

Rev. Dr. Eddy made a long report on the Nestorian Missions, urging a partial enlargement therein. Rev.

Rev. Dr. Eddy made a long report on the Nestorian Missions, urging a partial enlargement therein. Rev. Mr. Skinner, Jr., of New-York, then reproduced the New-York Secretaryship, and made an animated speech on the subject. Dr. Pons moved to refer the whole subject to a Special Committee, to report next year. This was generally concurred in, and so Mr. Nelson was elected. Dr. Anderson, Mr. Treat and Dr. Prurry, were the reelected Corresponding Secretary. Dr. Worcester, Recording Secretary, and Henry Hill, Esq., Treasurer, and the Board adjourned on singing the Missionary hymn.

FINAL MEETING.

FINAL MEETING. FRIDAY, Sept. 12, 1851.

On Friday morning, the usual Farewell Meetingat which it is customary for the Missionaries about to return to their fields of labor to make their farewell salutations—was densely crowded, commencing at the early hour of 74 o'clock, in order to adjourn in time for the 10 o'clock trains to Boston. Prayer was made by Rev. Dr. AIKEN of Cleveland, and Dr. ANDERSON explained in a few apposite remarks the special object of the meeting. Rev. Mr. Andrews, of the Sandwich Islands Mission, represented three Missionaries of station, all of whom are about to return—Dr. Andrews, Mr. Paris and himself. After having mangled for a year amid the privileges and refinements of civilized life, it was natural to inquire of himself whether, after all, he would not prefer a good place and a fair salary in this country, to going back to the half-dressed, liliterate and impoverished people of his adoption. He professed no stoical indifference to the benefits of civilized society, but he could from his heart assure them that he would rather be the pastor of his scattered, simple flock, than the occupant of the richest metropolitan church in the country. He was about to return to a people that presented strong contrasts to this. They were a simple as simplicity itself, they were rude, ignorant and but little cultivated, and life there was unquestionable a serious, self-denving thing. But he welcomed it, and he thought others ought to welcome it too. He could not understand what special obligations he was under more than every Christian to submit to self-denial for Christ's sake. Each of you ought to be as ready to give and to suffer for the ignorant islanders as we. And if you cannot go to them, leaving your tarm, or shop, or merchandise, you are hound to possess the spirit of the Missionary, and to suffer as generously for them as we. Mr. A. closed his address by an affectionate salutation to all the countries and Christians associated with the Board. Churches and Christians associated with the Board. Churches and Christians associated with the Board Churches and Christians, who began by assuring the audistantion per mission, who began by a source among the circumstantion of Tirkey, were explained in a few apposite remarks the special object of the meeting. Rev. Mr. Andrews, of the Sand

Mr. Terry new said he was opposed to going any further till Mr. Phelps had said something.

$2.000 - provided the whole sum was raised within a month.

Rev. Dr. Dana, of Newburyport, pledged $200 more.

Rev. Mr. Clark said that a clergyman whose salarty was $100, of which he paid $90 for rent, authorized him to offer $50.

Mr. Hill said a modest man by his side (Hon. S. H. Walley, it proved to be,) authorised him to subscribe $500. He had a note of $100, which was said to have come by telegraph.

At this point old Dr. Beecher rose with a few words of thunder. It ought to be understood that laymen shail have the privilege of giving all they teel disposed to. The heart reasons oetter than the judgment. But after all the work of getting the mojet for the striking increase of interest felt in the missionary work in this country. He add been the object of unceasing to the country. He had been the object of unceasing to the country. It is point old Dr. Beecher rose with a few words of thunder. It ought to be understood that laymen shail have the privilege of giving all they teel disposed to. The heart reasons oetter than the judgment. But after all the work of getting the mojetime and the choice he made to do the his lie to the missionary work has few into the his less the tothe mission when he mission in desire paid served calculated to enlist the best feelings of the heart. Yet he must expresses the happiness he had experienced from the kindness of Christian friends work in this country. He had been the object of unceasing to the country. He had been the object of unceasing to the country. He had been the object of unceasing to the country. He had been the object of unceasing to the country. He had been the object of unceasing to the co the assurance that their interests are cherished by the Christians of this country. Soliciting as interest in their prayers, and expressing, with great ferror, his thanks for the kindness received. Mr. W. closed with an earnest appeal in behalf of his mission, and sat down.

The house here united in fervently singing the

After which, Rev. Mr. Waiker, of the Gaboon Mission in Africa, tendered his farewell salutations. He disliked to say farewell. It is a long-faced, lugubrious word, which his state of mind, in reference to his return, hardly qualified him to use. Neither was he partial to that off-repeated word self-denial. That is a matter we had but futle right to talk about, for he hardly knew the man who came near to what his return, harely qualined him to use. Neither was he partial to that oft-repeated word self-denial. That is a matter we had but fittle right to talk about, for he hardly knew the man who came near to what might be properly earlied self-denial. He wished to utter no word that should seem to sever the ties that bound him to this land, or to weaken the sympathies subsisting between the missionary work and the Christian heart of this country. He was going back with cheerfulness, and not far away from home. We are all in the same field—you in one councer, and I in another, but still at the same work, under the same Taskmaster, expecting the same reward, and at night to come to the same home. His last words therefore, should be, All Hall?

Rev. Mr. Bylnorens, of the choctaw Mission, followed. Thirty-one years ago, in the fall of 1830, he left his father's house on horse back, with his sister's Bible, and his mother's mittens and socks, in his portmanteau, to go to Hartford, at a meeting of the Board, to be ordained a missionary. It seemed hull a little while ago yet where are the men that laid hinds upon me then? Not one of them is bree? Not a Seretary, nor Treasurer, nor Committee man, nor President, nor any other officer, then connected with the Board, are now alive. Yet, blessed be God, as in the days of Joshua, there were "elders that overlived Joshua, who had known all the works of the Lord that he had done for Israel," so there are men of white locks and bent forms, who were living at that time, and have lived to witness all that God has accomplished by means of this Board. Mr. B. recalled some interesting incidents in the life of jermiah Evaris, the honored Secretary of the Board, rearried the progress that had been made in civilizing and Christianizing the Indians, and concluded with an earnest appeal to young men to devote themselves to the missionary work.

After prayer by Rev. Dr Epwagos, the assembly was adoressed by the Hon. W. I lituasago on behalf of the Prudential Committee, who expressed the thanks KENTUCKY .- The Governor and Lieut. Governor elect of this State were inaugurated at Frankfort on the 2d inst. Gov. Powell (Opp.) promrich (or requite the confidence reposed" in him. Hon John B. Thompson (Whig), in entering upon his duties as Lieut. Governor, "in a few pertinent remarks returned his acknowledgments to the people for his election, and congratulated them upon the admirable working of their political system, under which the highest officers of the State pass to and from office by the quiet and peaceable hat of the public will, and not by revolutionary violence nor military power. He then aliuded to the union and happy confederacy of the States under the Constitution of the United States in terms of enlogy and attachment, and in the terms of the oath just taken by him, promited in all integrity, and with whatever ability he was endowed, honestly and patriotically to administer his office, as he had sworn to do. He invoked prosperity upon the patriotic people of Kentucky, whose purposes and objects were always pure, and however divided by party, it was but such division as through different forms and modes of worship, created different denominations of good men, and to which denominations good men belonged as patriots do to party—and often not the less patriots or pure from being of this or that party. He acknowledged in grateful terms his obligation for the honor conferred upon him." used "to requite the confidence reposed" in him.

THE RAPPERS TESTED.—We find in The Committee of gentlemen and ladies—among the latter Mrs. Judge McLean and Mrs S. P. Chase—appointed to investigate the mystery of the rappings, as exhibited through two members of the Fox family. The Committee, after being present at two or three sittings, and watching the whole operations as closely as possible, state "that they never heard a sound when all the feet of the mediums were in sight, with their soles on the surface of the floor."
